(Washington) The following statement was released today by ITTA - The Voice of America's Broadband Providers and may be attributed to Genny Morelli, President of ITTA:

“ITTA is disappointed that the United States Senate today passed a Congressional Review Act (CRA) resolution that would reinstate Title II regulation on the Internet. ITTA urges the House of Representatives to reject the Senate's action, which perpetuates the uncertainty that has plagued the Internet ecosystem for too many years, so that the important work of legislating a permanent framework can begin in earnest.”

“ITTA looks forward to working with Congressional leaders and industry stakeholders to preserve an open Internet while encouraging additional investment in broadband networks for future generations.”
